The Outstanding Civil Engineer Award recognizes outstanding civil engineering leaders whose lifetime accomplishments and achievements have made significant differences in one of five categories: Design, Construction, Government, Education and Management. Using bullets, describe your candidate's connection to civil engineering (e.g. degrees in civil engineering; professor of civil engineering; other relationship to the practice of civil engineering). In the Syracuse Section, candidates in all categories will be reviewed equally but submissions at the regional and national OPAL award level are done by category. It is expected that the winner of the Syracuse Section Outstanding Civil Engineer Award will be eligible and appropriate to be submitted for a regional or national OPAL award.
